

Wildfires

Every year in America, we experience about 100,000 wildfires. Ninety percent of these fires are caused by people not extinguishing campfires appropriately, careless use of smoking materials and even arson.

However, ten percent of wildfires are caused by nature itself. Most wildfires caused by nature are due to lightning strikes.

Below is a series of websites for videos about wildfires and the people who fight to save our forests.

The Science of Wildfires

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=F8OrmGAlqI4>

The Ecological Benefits of Fire – scroll to bottom for videos

<https://www.nationalgeographic.org/article/ecological-benefits-fire/>

Wildfire101 - National Geographic

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5hghT1W33cYInside>

Inside the flames (Smoke Jumpers Training) Jul 2, 2012

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fcv1K7QsrVl>

Drones vs California Wildfires: How they're helping firefighters Sept. 2, 2018

<https://www.nationalgeographic.org/article/ecological-benefits-fire/>